Fullstack Developer (Internship)

Independently designed and developed a full-stack Internship Management System for LSF, using Laravel 10, Inertia.js, Vue.js, and MySQL handling both backend and frontend development end-to-end.

- Designed the MySQL database architecture and built relational models covering internship registration, batch management, daily activity logs, and organizational subkomisi structure.
- Developed role-based access for three distinct user types Super Admin, Admin, Supervisor (Pembimbing), and Student (Mahasiswa) each with dedicated dashboards and permissions.
- Built core features including internship registration workflows, batch (angkatan) management, daily activity logging, and data recap & export functionality.
- Implemented a notification system to keep users updated on registration status, activity logs, and internship progress.
- Developed the full frontend interface using Vue.js and Inertia.js, ensuring a seamless, reactive user experience across all roles.
- Handled user authentication and authorization to secure access across different account types.
- Applied clean coding practices and MVC architecture throughout the development lifecycle, from database design to UI implementation.

Backend Developer (Internship)

Backend developer on a 4-person team building a full-stack Web-Based Internship Registration System for Badilag, Mahkamah Agung RI, using Laravel, Inertia.js, and Vue.js.

- Developed a Web-Based Internship Registration System for students/applicants together with a team of four, using Laravel, Inertia.js, and Vue.js.
- Took primary responsibility for backend development, including designing and implementing the MySQL database structure, creating migrations, and defining relational models.
- Built and maintained essential backend components such as Controllers, Models, Middleware, and core business logic for registration, verification, and user management (admin & applicant).
- Assisted in developing several admin interface pages using Vue + Inertia, including dashboards, applicant management pages, and system configuration views
- Implemented user authentication and authorization flows to ensure secure access control.
- Performed debugging, basic testing, and ensured application functionality aligned with organizational requirements.
- Collaborated using Git (GitHub) for version control, including branch creation, commits, and pull requests.
- Worked effectively within a team environment, maintaining good communication and clear task coordination.
- Adhered to clean coding practices and the MVC architecture throughout the development process.
